william p. ladson, principal

I was doing my best to keep from getting frustrated, but I was not succeeding. My hands kept balling up into fists, and I would carefully unknot them, finger by finger.

"Yes, Mr. Ladson, I see your point, but really, why can't we have the Prom out of school?"

He was sitting there, in that brown leather chair, giving me his reasonable look — politique — and he said, "Look, Jim, you will have all your life to go . . ." and I closed my eyes and just shut him out. I was feeling persecuted, and the words were the same, never changing:

"It's not time to make a change,
just relax, take it slowly
you're still young, that's your fault there's so much you have to go through
. . ."

The secretary came to the door. "Call for you on line 31, Mr. Ladson. It's the Area Four Office."

I watched him on the phone, thinking, I've known him for more than three years, I really ought to know what to expect. Yet as I watched him on the phone, getting red in the face, telling whoever was on the other end of the line that high school students have the capability to do some things on their own. And I got to thinking about how he had spent the day, mining through a two-foot stack of paper on his desk, informing a new teacher that we hadn't the money to rehire her, talking to an irate mother, listening to the hassles of old men who could not decide whether it is the school's purpose to educate or to give grades. And I began to feel something vaguely akin to pride for this man, this man who had frequently left his career in the balance to let young people do what they must. It amounts to so much more than the rhetoric, the politician's attitude. The rest can be forgiven.

It was late when I went into the office, and later when we went out. I was looking into a tired, haggard face when I asked, "Is it worth it?"

"I don't know, Jim. I think so."

So I stood there leaning on a locker, with that quiet but kind of clamorous feeling some folks get when the school is completely empty, devoid of life, watching him walk down the corridor by the auditorium. He walked past the band room, dark with the hall lights out, and he stopped at the door. He looked out the window, like a guy in the 1890's, maybe, who was leaving the factory for the last time to go God knows where, the factory where he worked like hell but which offered the only real security he ever knew. He stood looking out into the blackness, saying, maybe, "It's awful cold out there," then he turned and looked back up the empty hallway, and I thought maybe he was going to cry. Then he pushed the door open, and walked out into the cold of a January evening..

"Blossom, smile some, sun shine down my way,

lately I've been lonesome . . ."

social studies

I was aroused from a perfectly peaceful slumber by a high, piercing voice. "Which state has a unicameral legislature?"

"I dunno. What's a legislature?"

She paced around the room, hands on hips, and she paused to clear her throat. "Young man, you should know what a legislature is. We've been discussing legislatures in here every day for the last two months."

"Yes, ma'am, and I've been sleeping in here every day for the last two months."

"Well, you had better wake up quickly. If you do not pass government, they will put you in the box, and you cannot graduate with the rest of the slobs — er, students."

"Hm, gracious. How about Alaska? No. Arizona? No. Alabama? . . ."

science

Lean your head down on a little green lab table and shift your brain into overdrive. Cut the lights and start up the projector inside your skull. Let the memories seep through, one by one. BLINK.

Get a firm grip on the razor blade. And yourself. God, I hope it's dead. Hold the skin back. Please let it be dead. Quiet. Have a little respect. There. What's that? That noise? It's his heart. His heart is still beating. I've killed him, but his heart is still beating. Stoppitt!!! It was the tell-tale frog. BLINK.

"Watch out for the graduated cylinder, Terry. We're almost ready. Whatever you do, watch out for the graduated cylinder. If you drop it, my skin will turn green and my hair will fall out. Now to pour the second reactant in. Ah, there it is. Grab the filtrate, Terry, and I'll . . ." Crash. Tinkle-tinkle Ooze.

"Jim?"

"Yes?"

"I dropped the graduated cylinder . . ."

BLINK.

For the ten years that Woodson's Science Department has been trying to produce analytical thoughts in the minds of un-analytical people, it has been responsible for more than its proper share of memories. If you are on a nostalgia trip, nothing compares to those lab classes where you were no brains and all thumbs. Yet, if you were one of the lucky ones, and most were, you did not have to be Debbie Meloy to pick up something precious from your science class. You learned that the most complicated function in the world, regardless of what it is, is very dependant on the smallest and seemingly most insignificant.

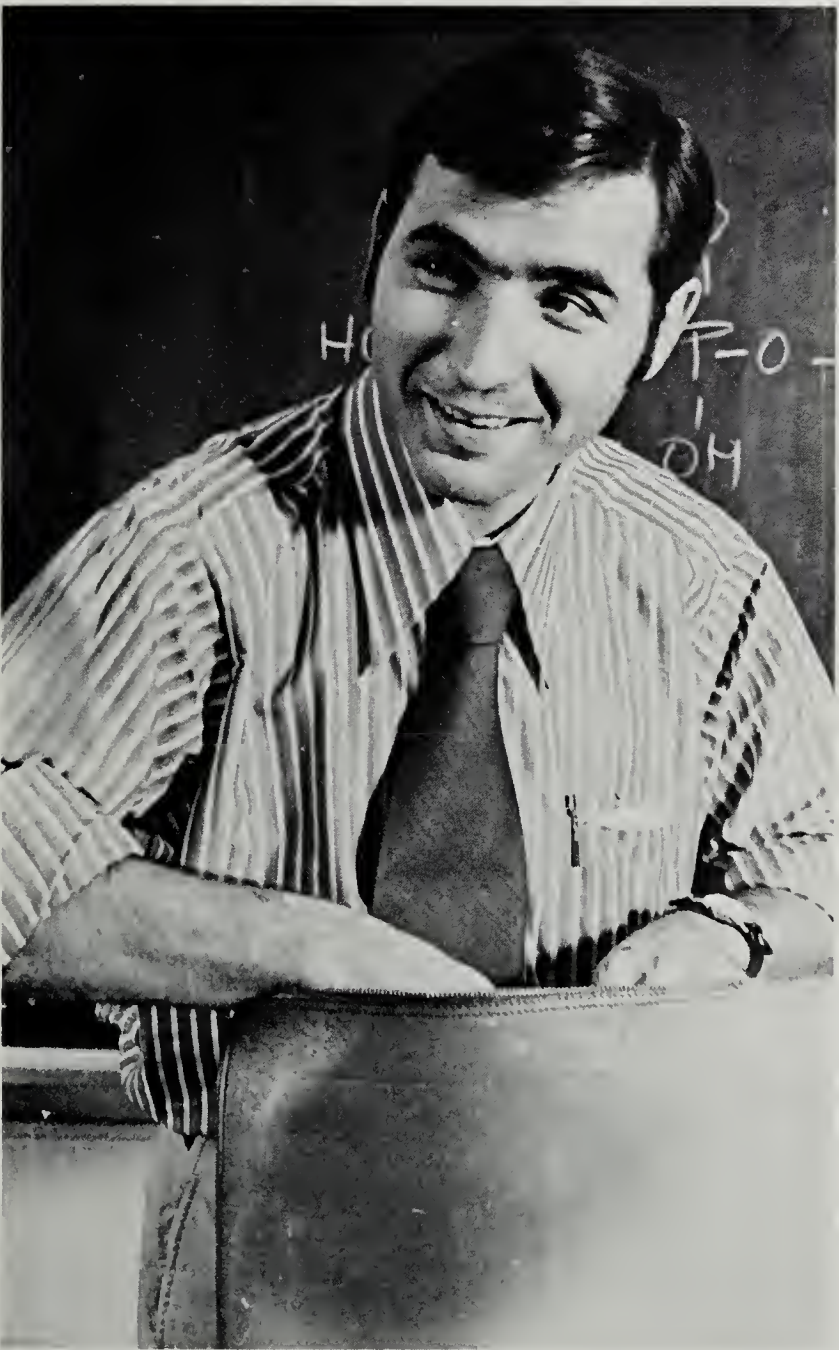

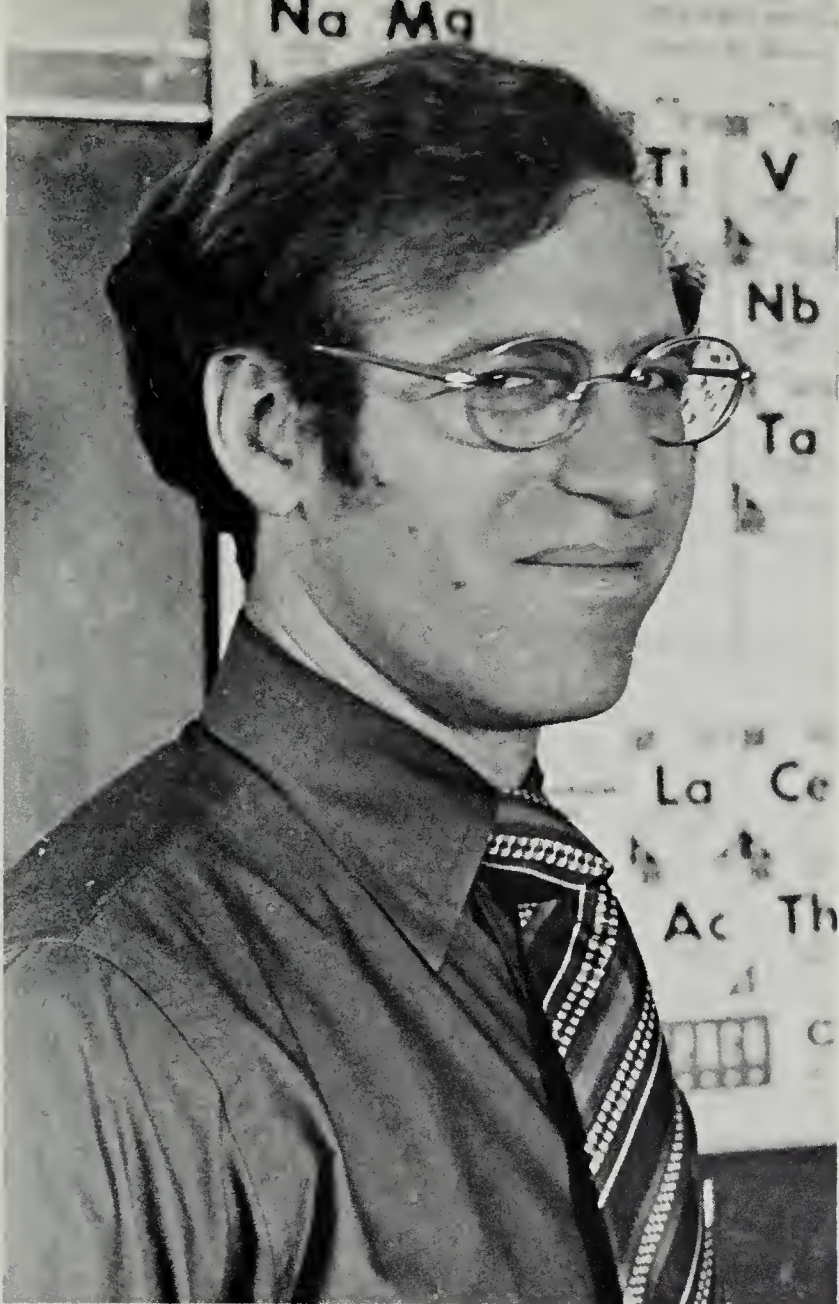

Your class wouldn't have been the same without you.

6:00 A.M. The art room door painfully squeaks open, and I take two sneaky steps inside.
STROKE STROKE STROKE
DAUB STROKE

Nervousness sets in. I look around, hoping the secrets of the enclosure will reveal themselves. They remain perfectly decent.
MOULD MOULD MOULD
SPLAT MOULD

Time hurries on. The sunlight lends an unusual perspective to the surrounding objects. Beyond the paint and clay and sculptures and decoupages, however, there is nothing.
POUND POUND POUND
TWIST POUND

An unreal state of mind. The objects are transformed into beautiful creations. A treasure in human exertion. This art room. A monastery. A fairy castle. A refuge. A way of life.

music

Impressions from an outsider:

Extravaganza sold out for nth consecutive year. Frantic preparations for nth consecutive year. Havoc for the nth consecutive year. Success — for the nth consecutive year.

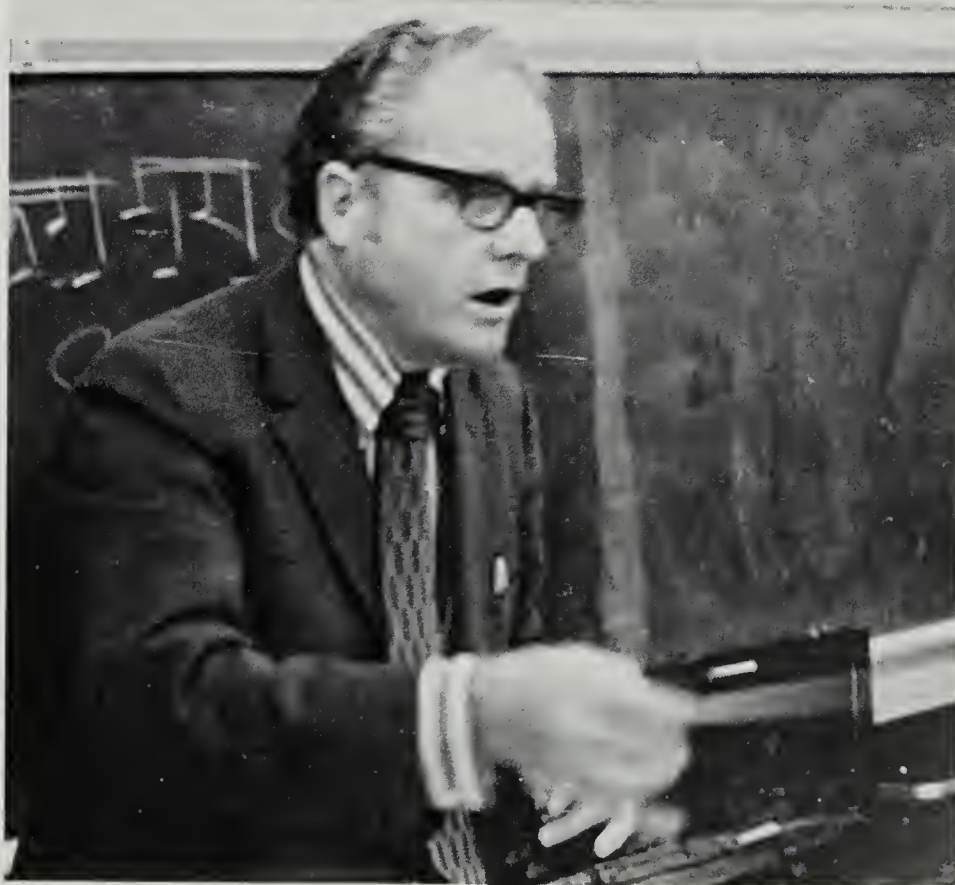

Hey — You — Can you carry a tune? Then carry it outside, please, and don't bother to come back. And you! You don't respond to a pitch pipe. Do you respond to a lead pipe? Mr. Cappel, there are seventeen absences from Treble Choir today. Mr. Lawrence, a member of the Baton Corps learned to twirl today!

Impressions from an insider:

We had better not blow this part again, guys. Are you marching tonight, Eric? Sym-phon-ic — That sounds awful nice.

Impressions:

melody, harmony, beauty — and each golden drop of musical excellence created by a tub — full of blood, sweat,
and tears.

vocational education

Woodson's Vocational Department is a landmark in achievement and service to the community. Turning out hundreds of highly trained cosmetologists, practical nurses, and refrigerator repairmen each year, this department gives a terrific headstart in life to a wide variety of students, coming from the entire area.

It's probable that the "best mechanic you've ever had" will come from our Vocational Department.

secretaries

Secretaries: soothing and sympathetic smiles as they tell you Mr. Billak is waiting in his office, you're late because you overslept, unexcused. Where you go when you've forgotten your locker combination and can't find your seven friends using it. They do the announcements, they're nice to your father when he's shouting over the phone that he wants to see all of your teachers immediately. All that little stuff that makes school run more like school instead of a hodge podge.

mathematics

Mathematics: struggling to find bisector angles and the answers to equations that go bump in the night, straining your neck to look over the shoulder of that girl to your right,  $\sin \left[ b \left( ++ \frac{2}{7n-a} \right) \right] =$  some dubious number that you've forgotten since yesterday. Mumbling sweet nothings when you don't know the right answer, counting off time in segments that Einstein didn't even think up, wondering what will show up on your achievement test next Saturday and finally having a nervous breakdown when your exam is passed to you. This is mathematics, one part deteriorated pencil erasers mixed with a lot of hope. Gently.

physical education

Energy compressed: Mumbling in the corner, cracking the knuckles. Bell rings, things sing, and it's down to Jockland, gym bag in hand. Follow the Nose to Bernie's Barn and the smell of physical exertion. Unhang and hang up. Stand. Sit. Yell out when I call your name. Each of you girls grab a stick. Fonebone, you bring the balls back to Mr. Knupp.

Has it ever struck you that despite the effort most teachers make to get their subject into your system, none of it stays as long as P.E.? You don't forget anticipation of the big game. You laugh, maybe. You don't forget the violence. You recall the sounds of released emotions.

Violence: Kick it, stick him, don't fumble the ball. Shoot! Sit out, sit up, run, you idiot, run! You're called for traveling, the ball's unraveling, shut up, kid, get over here and play.

Energy released: Sweat-soaked t-shirts stuffed in the box to serve another day's penitence. No towels today? Gee, Mr. Jenkins, I lost one of the mitts. Oh, Susan, I've got blisters all over my feet. Is the water too hot? Is the water too cold? I'll remember the day when the water was just right.

industrial arts

It is a rare occasion when one sees a lathed piece of metal atop a marble slab or an architectural drawing in a gilded frame. Yet, the teachers of the Industrial Arts Department are developing practitioners of media no less beautiful in their own ways than sculpted clay or oil paintings. For the four hundred boys and girls learning the techniques of the wood shop or the drawing board and for the dozens of children whose only Christmas presents are the handiwork of these people, Industrial Arts are the essence of practical beauty.

The Guidance Department has been the recipient of every type of comment from lavish praise to total condemnation. Yet, one fact stands quite apparent above any undercurrent of controversy. Most Woodson students go to college, and most do it with the aid of the Guidance Department. Regardless of the fact that your counselor makes obscure the most obvious facts (Maybe you shouldn't apply to Harvard, this time.) and makes difficult the simplest transfer, that same counselor is your best opportunity for redress when you have a legitimate complaint and your kindest sympathizer when your heart is pierced by the "Arrows of Outrageous Fortune."

Seymour Fudd, I'm surprised at you . . . What on my S.A.T.'s? . . . Young man, you are quite obviously not exerting yourself to the height of your capabilities . . . Hello. This is Mrs. Cashion at Woodson High School. Is Jim home today? , , , Yes ma'am, he missed homeroom again. . . . Why can't I get out of Mass Media? . . . Am I too late to register for driver training? . . . They accepted me??!!!

Guidance may be defined as giving direction. When you step out of the door of Woodson High School's protective confines for the last time, you will need a direction. It is a fair chance that your map will be drawn by the little lady with the terrific Excedrin headache — your guidance counselor.

part-time teachers

Although the "Desiderata" has been abused and overplayed on the radio so much as to almost lose significance, its tenets are no less true and relevant. The section of the piece dealing with the value of each person's role is applicable in the situation of the part-time teachers.

Someone might say, "If they are not here all of the time, how can they teach with the feeling of an instructor who spends a full day here, one hundred eighty times a year?" Yet, the part-time teachers are not overexposed to the student body, and they carry a sense of sanity and proportion that the full-time resident wouldn't have.

special services

Do we need Special Services?

Having lunch is definitely unnecessary. We could have music in the cafeterias instead of hot meals.

Custodial service is certainly not a necessity. We would need no more than a wetsuit to get into the bathrooms. And if we used a bulldozer to make a monthly sweep, the halls would be easily passable to anybody with a four-wheel-drive jeep.

A clinic isn't needed. Most of us enjoy staying in school while we're sick.

These services truly are unnecessary — for a school of three hundred students. In a school of three thousand, however, they are more than necessary. They are special.

Special Services, so to speak.

Rena Roan, Queen of the Sweetheart Court

Reagan Brandon, Maid of Honor

An empty frame, a bodiless, lifeless hulk, comes to life. It's a Friday, and we've just returned from our weekly spin around the world, chasing the leaves from their warm September green to their red and ochre disguises. When you fill up a box with thousands of very different toys, each toy has its own view of the matter. For some, it's a carnival. For some, it's Vaudeville. For some, it's the Valley of the Shadow of Death. For most, it's the Big Performance under the stars.

How big is it? To many, probably most, it's just a game. For some, it's a way of life. All cheer, and all boo, and all cry. Each different toy, from its own perspective, creates some color. The rainbow is Wilbur Tucker Woodson High School.

Farewell to you and the youth I have spent with you.

It was but yesterday we met in a dream.
You have sung to me in my loneliness,
and of your longings I have built a tower
in the sky.

But now our sleep has fled and our dream is over, and it is no longer dawn.

The noon tide is upon us and our half waking has turned to fuller day, and we must part.

If in the twilight of our memory we should meet once again, we shall once more speak together and you shall sing to me a deeper song.

And if our hands should meet in another dream, we shall build another tower
in the sky.

Senior's letter

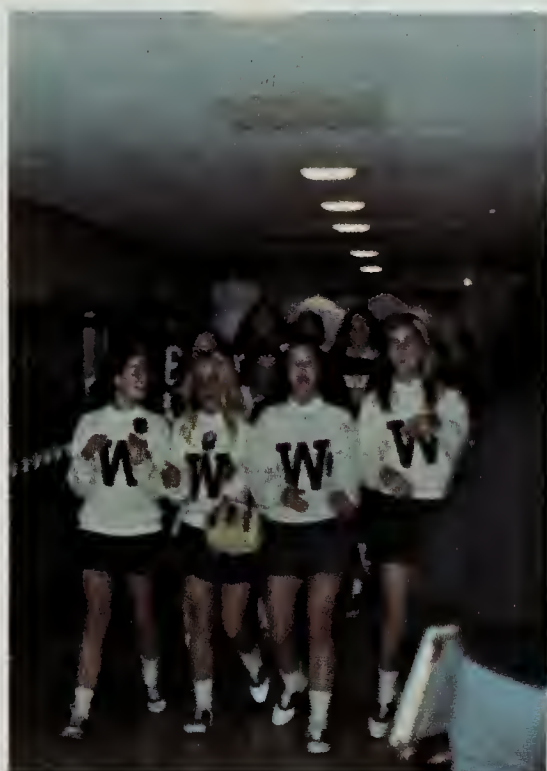

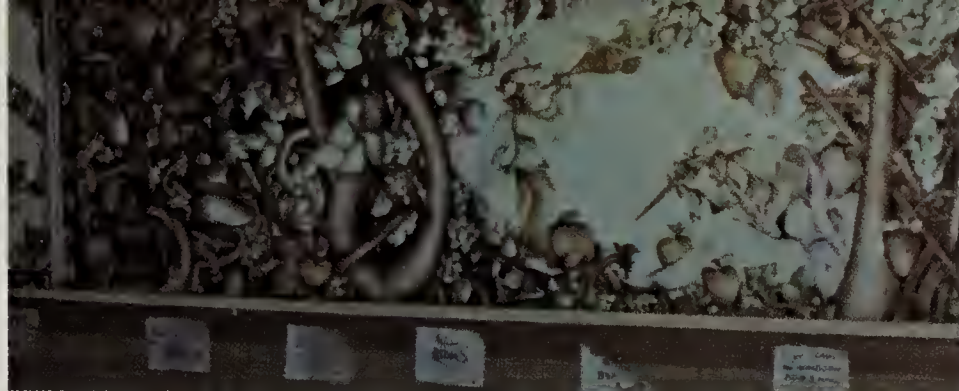

Every moment is an experience to relive over and over again in your memory. Annandale game. Senior office. Rock concert. Study each moment carefully and digest it slowly.

Every day is a challenge to your resources and talent, making your full potential rise to the surface. Government class. Dance decorations. Only two days left to build the float. Meet each challenge armed with knowledge gained through experience and handle it with confidence.

Every year is a collage of wonder and artistic accomplishment, jammed with events that give trial to your senses. Take each year as your own and engrave it on your thoughts.

Woodson. Amid the loudness and excitement of day-to-day adventure, all seem to lose their identity. Yet, in the blur of the rushing tide, there remains beautiful individuality. An individuality presented in many forms. Culture, nature, thought. This is the plan of life. Everyone striving for the same goals, but each interpreting them in his own way.

Coexistence of unity and self-expression. People, coming from every background, brought together in a oneness of spirit and separated in a difference of character and emotion.

Ain't it good to know,
that you've got a friend . . .

When people can be so cold . . .

SENIOR OFFICERS: Sheila Evans (Treasurer), Paula Musco (Secretary), Jane Shaw (Senator), Mark Byrley (Vice President), Steve Pricer (Senator), Jim Williams (President).

They'll hurt you . . .

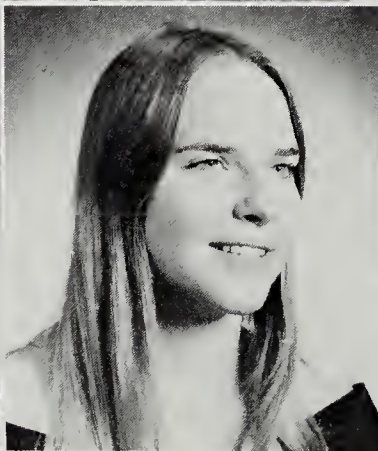

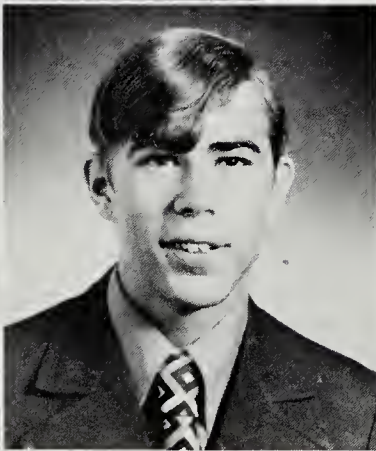

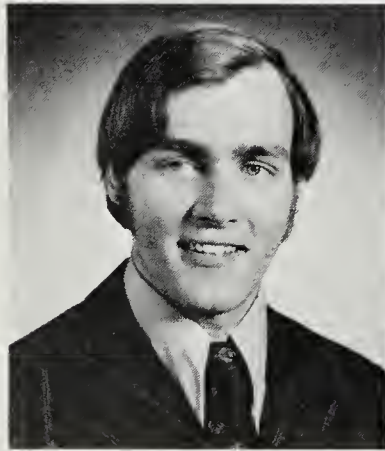

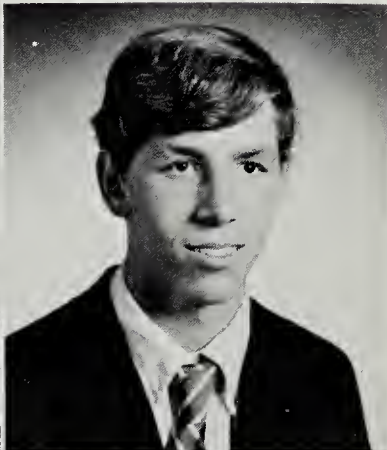

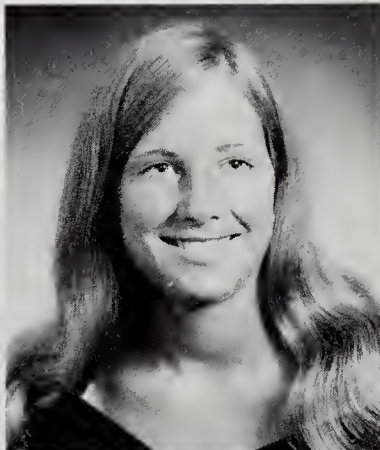

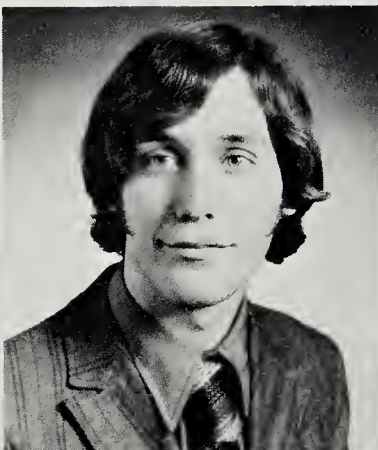

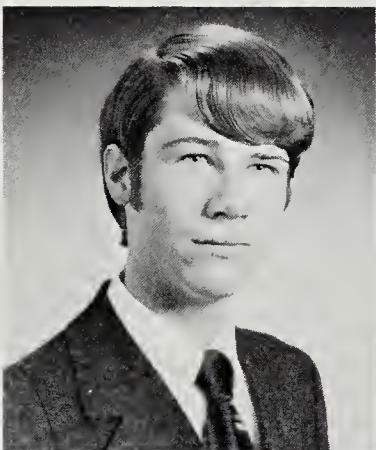

And desert you . . .

And take your soul, if you let them . . .
But don't you let them.

Juniors — introduction to “college blues” . . . PSAT’S, SAT’S, ACT’S, NMSQT’S, all the letters of the alphabet . . . grab your man for Sadie Hawkins . . . Junior Jollies went over like a lead balloon again, but, what-the-heck, it was fun . . . why do we always get crushed in the SENIOR-Junior basketball game . . . finally becoming involved and finding a place at Woodson . . . respected by almost everyone . . . looking forward with hope to the mythical utopia of their Senior year.

Do they know that they don't know?
Are they giving their lives a direction?
Will they attempt to learn?

Half of the knowledge gained.
Opinions and ideas formed.
Experience is the teacher.

September 7. "Excuse me, sir," squeaks a dubious student to a rather confident Senior. "I'm really lost!" "Do you know where room 789 is located?" Pushed from junior high security. Shoved into a world of uncertainty and doubt. Left to fend for himself. Struggling and succeeding. Searching and discovering.

edison

The Cavaliers advanced 273 yards, held Edison to 61 yards rushing, and prevented the Eagles from picking up a first down in the second half, as Woodson rolled to a 21 to 3 victory in its opening game. While the offense sputtered in the first half, committing five turnovers, the defensive unit sparked by Kevin Bomba and Chuck Baer, stopped the upset-minded Eagles cold. Bomba's fourth quarter interception led to the final Woodson score when Jim Landry went over from 10 yards out. This was following touchdown runs of 24 yards by Dave Pugh and 15 yards by Jay Monroe.

bishop

In Woodson's home opener, the Cavaliers met a highly underrated but determined Bishop Ireton squad. The aroused Cardinals, having seven players going both ways, stopped the Cavaliers' wishbone-T offense cold throughout most of the contest.

The Cavalier defense, led by Craig Funk and Mark Nepi, held the touted Cardinal quarterback, Jim O'Brien, to four completions in twelve attempts, having two passes intercepted.

Funk, continually putting on a fierce rush along with Mike McCoy, smeared O'Brien for big losses. Funk also contributed to the effort by blocking an Ireton punt for a safety.

fairfax

The Cavaliers' first Northern District game was a match against the tough Fairfax Rebels. With both teams playing tight defense, neither could advance the ball consistently.

In the second half, it was the defense that saved Woodson from its first loss to the Rebels in five years. With time running out in the game, Kelly Dennis came up with the big play by recovering a Fairfax fumble on the Cavalier five-yard line. On the last play of the hard-fought contest, Tim Francis, who already had an interception to his credit, made a game-saving tackle of a loose Rebel receiver on the Woodson five-yard mark.

The shutout was the third consecutive game in which the Cavalier defense failed to give up a touchdown.

stuart

What looked to be a dream in the first half turned into a nightmare as Woodson met Stuart. The Cavaliers took the opening kick-off and marched down the field on the running of Bob Caldwell and Mel Collins to a score with Caldwell going the final three yards. Minutes later, Randy Ney scored on a 33-yard return of a Raider punt.

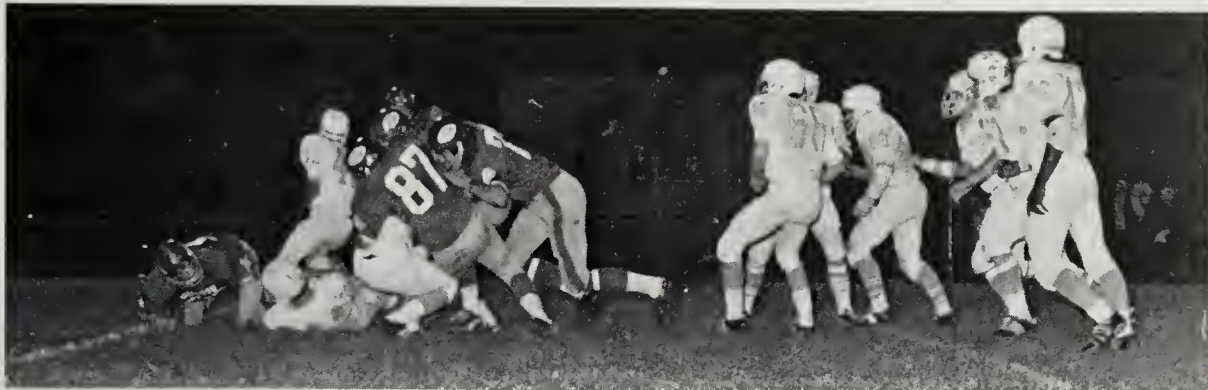

Midway through the second half lightning struck as Stuart scored two touchdowns, taking a 14-13 lead. Bill Miller came in to lead the Cavaliers to a field goal by Laird Johnson. With less than two minutes left, Stuart's Bill Lukoski scored the winning touchdown on a three-yard run.

WOODSON . . . . . 13 0 0 3-16
Stuart . . . . . 0 0 8 12-20

yorktown

Bob Caldwell's three touchdowns and Jay Monroe's eight-yard rushing average highlighted the Cavalier's 41-0 romp over Yorktown. Caldwell's scores came on runs of one, ten, and two yards while Jay Monroe contributed a 34-yard touchdown run. The offense was given fine field position throughout the contest by penetrating punt returns by safety Roger Dunn.

The defense completely stymied the Patriot attack, as Craig Funk, Bob Sellers, and Gary Hofer plugged the middle, and Mike McCoy and Kelly Dennis held the outside. Yorktown was allowed only 64 yards on offense and was intercepted three times by Jerry Bartelloni and Gary Christopher.

west springfield

The Cavaliers combined tough defense with first and fourth quarter touchdowns to smother the ill-fated West Springfield Spartans 14-0. The first score came on a quick pass over the middle from Bill Miller to Craig Dennis. The final tally came on a four-yard run by Mel Collins.

Between scores, the defense turned in its usual superior performance. Kevin Bomba's interception in the fourth period put the icing on the cake.

The game had a little more meaning than meets the eye. Spartan Coach Jim Jensen had just completed two years as an assistant coach at Woodson under Dick Pugh.

The Cavaliers' annual war with the Atoms from Annandale again proved to be a decisive game in the battle for the Northern District title. The Cavaliers received the opening kick-off and drove inside the Annandale five yard line before settling for a field goal. From that moment on, the fans watched as the Cavaliers mauled the Atoms everywhere but on the scoreboard. As the offense was rolling up 321 yards rushing, the defense again shined as it held the Atoms' All-Metro tailback Mike Lucido to a mere 94 yards in 32 carries.

Gaping holes were torn in Annandale's defense by the fine offensive line as Woodson was continually in scoring position. But fumbles prevented any further Woodson scoring, as the Atoms took the game with a 60 yard drive in the fourth quarter.

Annandale . . . . .	0	0	0	7-7

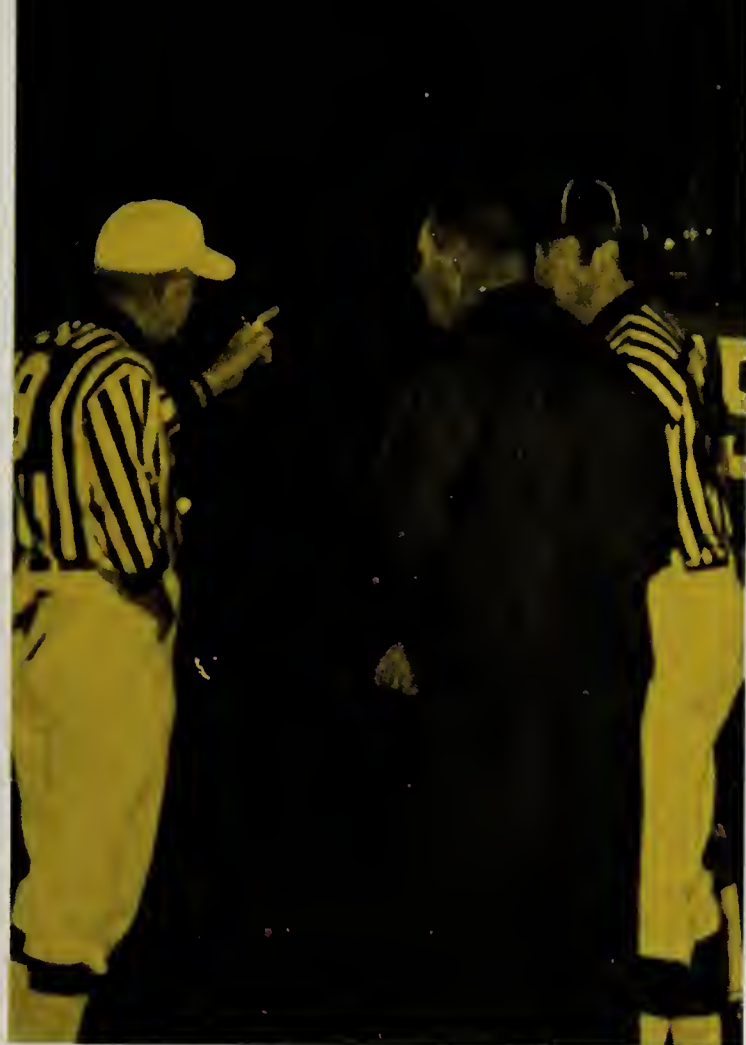

Laird Johnson's 27 yard field goal with less than a minute to play brought the Cavaliers victory when it looked as if Woodson was going to have its second consecutive scoreless tie with Langley in two years. For forty-seven minutes neither team could put any points on the board as the Woodson defense again excelled, holding the Saxons to 120 yards total offense. The Cavalier offense managed 289 yards against a grudging Langley team but were unable to score until Johnson's heroics followed timely passes by quarterback Bill Miller to end Craig Dennis.

Langley . . . . .	0	0	0	0-0

In Woodson's final home game of the year, the Cavaliers hosted the Falls Church Jaguars. Bob Caldwell opened the scoring on an eight yard run in the first quarter. After the Jaguars had scored, the Cavaliers retaliated with Barry Hill capping a sixty yard drive, scoring from the four. Woodson increased its lead to 19-6 with Craig Dennis pulling down a Bill Miller toss in the end zone. The Jaguars cut the lead to 19-14 with a touchdown midway through the final period. With less than a minute to play, Falls Church was challenging the Woodson lead with a first down on the Cavalier 14 yard line. On fourth down Chuck Baer batted down a Jaguar pass to preserve the victory.

WOODSON	7	6	6	0-19
Falls Church	6	0	0	8-14

Bob Caldwell's 48 yard burst up the middle for a touchdown with only 20 seconds elapsed in the first period was all the Cavaliers needed to record a 6-3 victory over Jefferson. It was only appropriate that the defense, which had done such an outstanding job all season at keeping their opponents off balance, ended the game by throwing back one last offensive threat. The victory over the Colonials marked the sixth game of the season in which the defense prevented its opponents from scoring a touchdown. The end of the season was highlighted by the announcement that six Cavaliers; Funk, Baer, McCoy, Francis, Hall and Pricer made the All-Northern District team.

The Woodson roundballers opened their Northern District season by convincingly beating the Stuart Raiders 77-57. Chuck Wortman dominated both ends of the floor, scoring 29 points while pulling down 21 rebounds. Jack Snead got 15 rebounds and 9 points, as the Cavaliers had a balanced attack, with ten players scoring.

In the second district game, the Annandale Atoms invaded Woodson's home court and upset the Cavaliers 82-69. Annandale's Dan Stoll Dorf scored 40 points while roaming unmolested under the boards. The Cavaliers were unable to get untracked and left the game in third place in the Northern District standings.

Jack Snead's 4 points in the final 90 seconds iced the Cavaliers' 59-55 victory over the Jefferson Colonials. Tough defense and sinking 11 of 13 foul shots helped stay ahead of the scrappy Colonials. Jack Snead led all scorers as he hit for 14 points while pulling down 15 rebounds as Bill Pennington and Bill Beard each contributed 11 points.

The Cavaliers came back home to blow the Fairfax Rebels right out of the gym by a score of 87-57. Richard Tackaberry's career-high 35 points led a Woodson offense that placed 4 men in double figures, including 18 by Grant Atkinson, 17 by Jack Snead and 12 by Chuck Wortman. An intimidating man-to-man defense held the Rebels to a mere 3 field goals for the first half and kept them off balance for the rest of the game.

The Stuart Raiders resorted to stalling tactics in an effort to upset the Cavaliers. The strategy almost worked as the Raiders went into the locker room with a 17-13 lead. But in the second half the Cavaliers took control of the game and went on to a 47-44 victory. Jack Snead again hit double figures as he hit for 12 points leading all scorers.

Woodson avenged a previous defeat at the hands of Annandale, beating the Atoms 61-58. Chuck Wortman and Jack Snead scored 20 and 13 points respectfully while Rick Tackaberry hit on 12 of 14 attempts from the foul line for a total of 16 points. Wortman hit three straight buckets midway through the final period to give the Cavaliers a 10 point lead but the Atoms came back to within three with 2 minutes left. The Cavaliers maintained their composure as Snead and Tackaberry hit on one and one situations and took the game which moved the Cavaliers into first place in the Northern District standing.

Trailing by as much as seven points during the fourth period, the Cavaliers came from behind to beat the Falls Church Jaguars 63-60. Chuck Wortman's seven points in the final quarter sparked the Cavaliers' comeback over the tough Jaguars. High scorers were Rick Tackaberry with 25 points and Jack Snead with 16 points. Snead's tough work under the boards kept the Cavaliers in the game until they could get untracked and take control of the game.

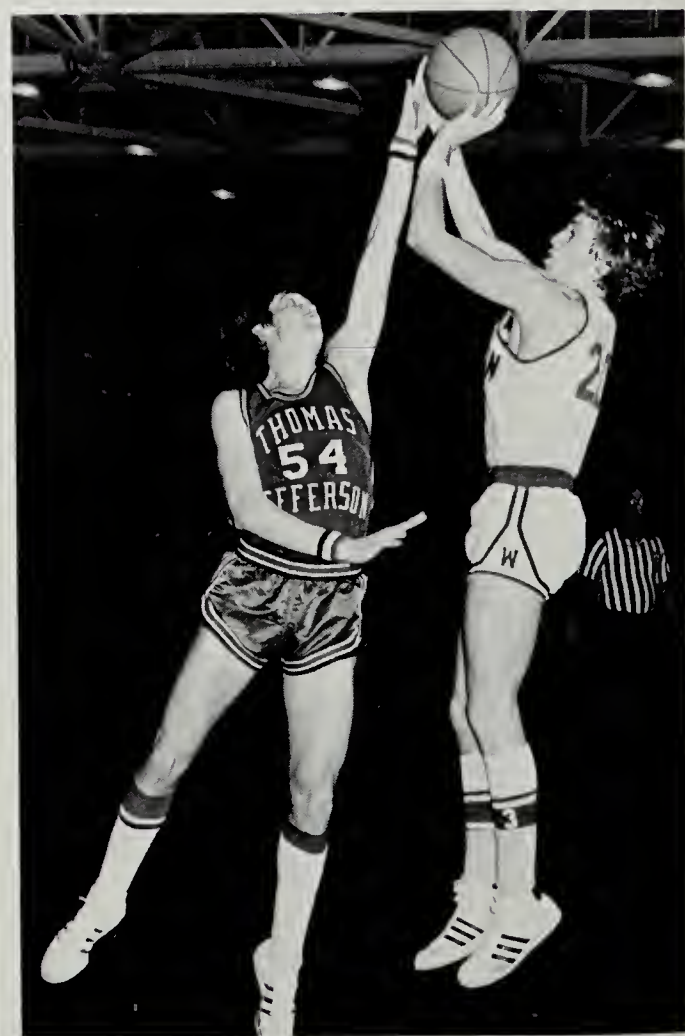

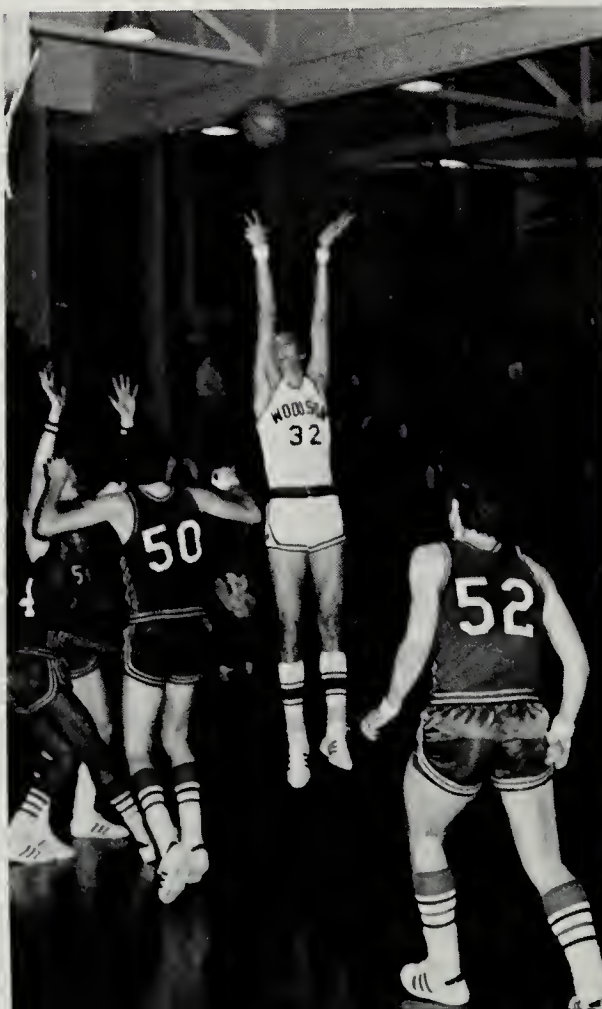

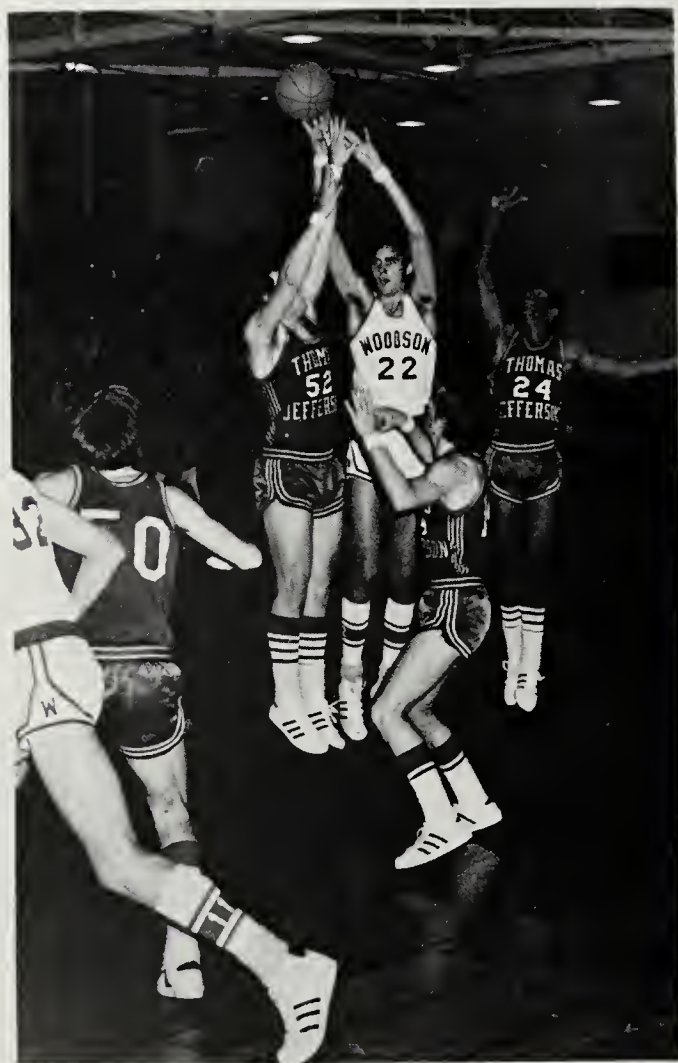

The Cavaliers got off to a slow start but finished strong in a 67-58 victory over Jefferson in the home finale. Richard Tackaberry led the Cavaliers with 17 points while Jack Snead and Chuck Wortman had 13 and 12 points, respectively. The Colonials matched the Cavaliers point for point in the first half with Woodson leading 31-30 at the intermission. A tough man-to-man defense forced many Jefferson turn-overs in the second half as the Cavaliers won the game going away.

A sizzling first quarter gave the Cavaliers an insurmountable lead as Woodson beat the Falls Church Jaguars, 74-62. From the outset, the Cavaliers could not miss as Woodson took a 27-14 lead at the end of the 1st period. A balanced scoring attack placed four men in double figures including Chuck Wortman with 17 points, Jack Snead with 15, Grant Atkinson with 12, and Richard Tackaberry with 11. The Cavaliers dominated both boards, outrebounding the stunned Jaguars, 35-20. Only a lapse in offensive play prevented the Cavaliers from completely crushing the Jaguars as Falls Church stayed within 15 points for most of the second half.

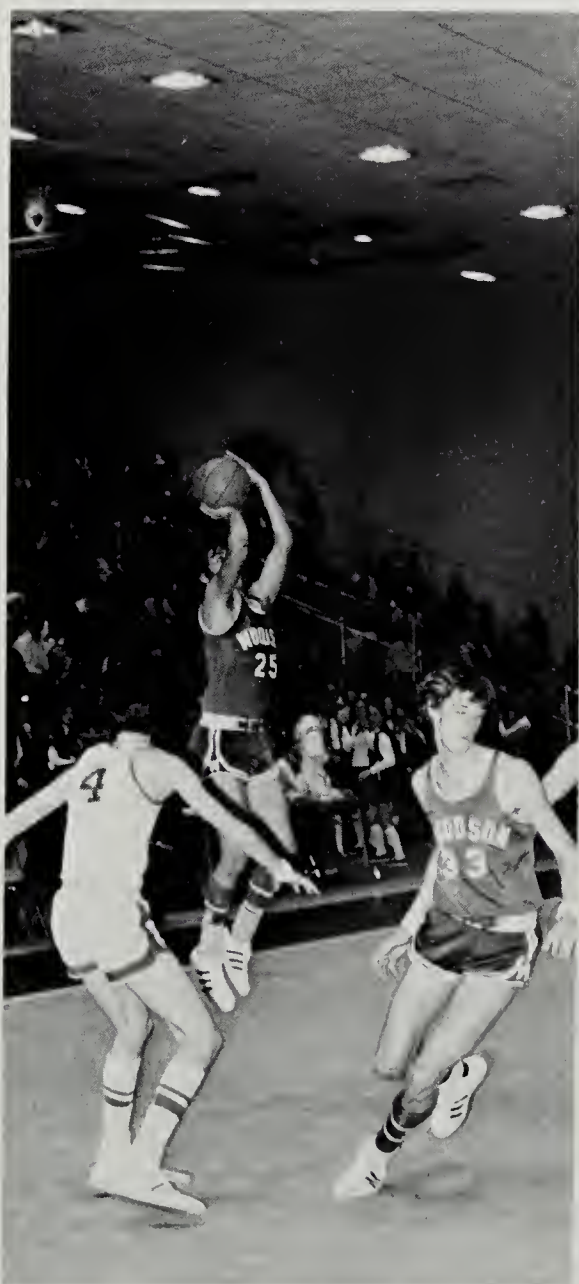

Woodson's cagers, sparked by the most enthusiastic crowd of the season, manhandled the Fairfax, Rebels, 63-51, in the season finale. The Cavaliers trailed most of the contest before taking control of the game midway through the final quarter. Chuck Wortman and Bill Beard each had 18 points, while Bob Karalis and Grant Atkinson both hit for 10 points. Wortman and Snead did a fine job in stopping Rebel standout Mike Bridgeman, holding him to a mere point. The game brought an end to a season which saw the Cavaliers win their fifth straight Northern District title for regular season play.

Captains Pete Devereaux and John Snitzer.

This year the Varsity Wrestling Team, coached by Mr. Dennis Houlihan, started practice on November 1 with eight returning lettermen and numerous prospects from last year's J.V. team. Showing it's strength and depth, the grappling squad swept it's four scrimmages and continued it's winning way through the first matches, defeating Edison, Marshall and Wakefield. Falls Church proved to be tough and managed to eke out a tie in the final match. Coming back from this disappointment, the matmen rolled over Fairfax and Robinson to compile a 5-0-1 record for the first half of the season.

The Cavaliers continued their winning ways by beating Groveton, Annandale, and Herndon. One of the toughest matches of the year, against an undefeated, untied T.C. Williams team, also ended in victory 26-21. After beating Stuart 30-8, the matmen were tied by Jefferson to end an undefeated season 10-0-2.

Taking third in the District Tournament and sixth in Regionals, the Cavaliers finished the season by placing fifteenth in the state.

Outstanding wrestlers on this years team were Steve Whittemore, at 98 lbs., unscored on for the first nine matches, with a 10-1-1 record, first in the district, second in the region, Bob Moot at 119 lbs., 10-1-1, second in district, fourth in the region, and third in state, Pete Callaham, at 132, fourth in district, second in regionals, and Rick Ladson at 155, 9-3, first in district and second in regionals.

Due to several tough breaks over the season, this year's Varsity Hockey squad could only come up with a 3-3-2 record. Key injuries sidelined veteran stickballers Rena Roan and Becky Rathbun, but outstanding performances by Jean Kosnik, Joanna Roan, and Robin Haden picked up the slack left by their absence. Definite promise for the future was shown by the many younger members of the team, which included one freshman and one sophomore.

After a Fairfax County rule changed girls basketball from the 6-man to a 5-man game, Woodson's Varsity Basketball Cavalettes pulled out a moderately successful season. Many new rules and entirely new strategy kept the team off balance, but they compensated through good individual performances by cagettes Jackie Gordon, Jo Roan and Becky Rathbun. Despite an unexciting record, the J.V. Wrestling Team showed much promise for next year. The squad was composed of many inexperienced wrestlers; freshmen and sophomores who were out for the first time. After a disappointing start (due primarily to the lack of experience) the team came on strong toward the end of the season.

Top wrestlers included Mike DiAntonio (167 lbs.) and Jack Carter (98 lbs.) who were both undefeated through their first nine matches. DiAntonio is expected to do well with the Varsity team next year. Carter and other freshmen will anchor the J.V.

Under the direction of Mrs. Imhoff, the Girl's Softball Team developed into a formidable force. The team consisted of many active and well-rounded players, including juniors Fran Cannon and Holly Castle. The pitching and hitting of another junior, Sandy McGary, aided greatly in the efforts of our women softballers. The team shows great promise for the future, as most of the players will be returning next year.

Soccer

Led by Coach Yiasemides and Captain Doug Ashton, the Soccer Team realized a fairly successful season, compiling a 4-4 record, and placing second in the Regional Tournament. Strong support was received from goalies Larry Galpert and Steve Petty who recorded several blocked goal attempts and many times saved the team from defeat. Team members Earl Devanny, Jim Wille, Bill Thomas, and Joe Carlin also provided a great deal of athletic ability and were instrumental in achieving the team's four victories.

The J.V. Hockey team winds up for an offensive charge against Robinson.

Captain Anne Marie Guiseppe challenges her McLean opponent for possession of the ball.

A disappointing 1-4-3 record, with only one goal scored all season, was all Woodson's J.V. Hockey team could come up with this year. Despite fine coaching by Miss Wright and tough defensive play, the offense was almost totally ineffective. Fine performances were turned in by Rowena Barron, leading scorer on the season, co-captain Kitt Howells, Debbie O'Donnell and Ann McElrath. The girls will provide valuable experience to next year's ranks of Varsity players.

This year's girls J.V. Basketball team started out fast winning their first four games before dropping a close game to Jefferson. Coached by Miss Morgan, this year's team was led by high scorers Lisa Millican and Madaline Waters and other outstanding players Julie Kaus and Becky Thorpe. With the valuable experience gained, next year's Varsity can look forward to another unbelievably exciting season.

With the touch of Oscar Robertson, Donna Cueroni lays one up.

Madaline Waters moves in on a fast break to score.

track

The Woodson Track Team can only be described as fantastic. The team has strength in all events, including the state champion discus thrower, Chuck Baer, and "Crazy Legs" Steve Giorgis. The team is supported by other jocks such as miler John (Hot Dog) O'Toole, sprintman Steve Kidd, and milers Buzz Ansheles and Doug Gosnell. As this year's defending District champions, the Track Team also relies on good performances from the mile-relay team, 880-man Gary Jones, and Mr. Track, Richard Tackaberry.

The 1971 Varsity Baseball team will be a blend of youth with experience. Returning from last year's team will be pitchers Bill Hendrickson and John Snitzer, catcher Jim Mallon, first baseman Bob Sellers, shortstop Greg Whitman, third baseman Roger Dunn and outfielder Brad Ross. Sophomores Matt Pasetacanier and Mel Collins can be expected to see a lot of action during the coming season. Coach Lee Knupp, who has a lifetime record of 95-72, hopes to add another winning season, in keeping with Woodson tradition.

Row 1: F. Cannon, N. Cuerni, R. Rozycki, S. Post, D. Brazda, B. Olmstead, M. Majorack, S. Saunders,

This year's student government, the Student Union, is one of the best to be formed at Woodson. Operating on a "no-nonsense" policy, the Student Union provided the members of the student body with many enjoyable activities, including several rock concerts and the midnight movies. The Union also sponsored another moderately successful magazine drive. President Greg Ragland acted as an effective link between the students and the administration and helped to keep communications channels open. A hearty "thank you" goes to the Student Union for giving Woodson the type of student leadership that has been missing in the past few years.

Greg Ragland, President.

Eric Young, Vice-President.

Van Hall, Treasurer.

Kel Ann Sheldon, Secretary.

Flickering, sparkling speckles; myriad millions of luminous flecks, giddily plastered by their Maker on the dome of the black Autumn sky, bearing a silent witness to an isolated incident worlds below:

Stadium lights, thousands of screaming glass suns, bore down, pour down, on the tiny figures
beneath — one baton, little metal stick, perspiring, glistening in the silver excitement,
twisting,
twirling,
turning,
yearning to
fliiiee hiiiee in the air . . .

One frozen moment, up high, high as the incandescent eyeballs of the lights. Then — plummeting, plummeting violently to earth — then caught, juggled, and finally caught again.

With barely the time to rest,
it's time for the return trip.

debate team

A studious young man stands behind the lectern, then launches headfirst into a vocal clarification of his position, doing so logically and with a fine forensic passion. For an isolated moment, his aspect is reminiscent of something, perhaps of your own mental image of Demosthenes, the Greatest Orator of Them All, guided and goaded by the Muse into a furious diatribe . . .

The Court of Debate is convened.

The rules of the Court are patience and dedication, which have become trite and redundant words due to overuse. Yet in the unusual subculture which is Woodson Debating, these words take on a vivid significance. It takes a very real patience to spend hour upon brain-befouling hour catalogueing miserable reference cards. And it requires a most special dedication to practice endlessly, to get up at 6:00 in the morning to come sell donuts in the lobby.

There is one more requirement for debate: Ability. But that's already taken care of.

This year's Math Team, predominantly composed of seniors, is exceptionally good. The team has held onto first place throughout December. At one occasion, the team scored a precedent making twenty nine out of thirty points. Mr. Samson believes in platooning and different team members compete at each meet. This adds to a higher team spirit. Much credit is due to Michael McLaughlin for making the club function well. Mr. Samson believes that the credit is shared by each scoring team member and also the mathematic teachers.

I rejected the thought of an alarm clock ringing at 9:00 on a Saturday morning, so I reached over the nightstand and picked up the phone. "Quimby, this is Allison. Where the hell are you and your copy?" "Well, I am in bed, and my copy is lurking around in the dark recesses of my head." Silence. "Well, get your dark recesses out of bed and over to the Yearbook room. Now. Bye."

Bye.

I slithered into 121, where the people were in a state of frenzied preoccupation. Miss Armbrister was beating on an obstinate typewriter, her face crimson from frustration. Two guys with cameras hurdled past me out the door, followed closely by a wet sponge from the hand of the Faculty editor. Some guy from Sports was scribbling illegible doggerel on a pad of pink copy paper, and this chick I had not seen before stands on a chair, all wild eyed and sweaty, and screams "Does anybody know the kid in the paisley shirt in this picture, here?" Nobody did.

"Where's the copy staff?", I ventured, and somebody turned to me with a hateful smile to mention that the staff stepped out for a cigarette about an hour ago and hadn't been seen since; also, would I please go up and get one of the photogs out of the darkroom, where they were superimposing Mr. Lina's picture onto one of a toilet bowl.

Four hours later I was sitting, back to the wall, with my feet propped on a lab table in the Yearbook cubicle. I was looking, or rather staring, at the wall with our slogan, "If at first you don't succeed, the hell with it." Most of the people were finished and long gone, and I was doing my best to feel philosophical about the Social Studies Department while toking on a Camel nonfilter. Julie looked over her typewriter, with a kind of painful yet relieved expression, like someone who had just finished serving five to ten for armed robbery, and said, "maybe it's worth it, after all." Doug Duke burst into the room, a bit drunkenly, and announced, "I think we may just make this deadline." I looked back at Julie, and decided she was right.

I pulled into homeroom as the Cavalcade was being passed out. It is a useful paper. Some use it to sit on; some use it to keep the rain off their hair; most use it as a momentary diversion before cluttering the halls with it.

"Which way I flie am hell; myself am hell."

One may or may not enjoy the Cavalcade. One may or may not respect it. But one ought to sympathize with it, because it is an expression, and an accurate one, of what high school students are. If a clumsy pen betrays a burning thought, it is because of the nature of the thing: scholarly pretensions and high school sentiments.

Cavalcade: a stage in growing up.

Step softly past, on your tiptoes, maybe,
like a stealthy and watchful hound and bend a silent ear toward the Cage — the hollow, murky, metallic cage. And there is nothing to hear, nothing to see,
but for a green phosphorescence
which struggles to pervade the silent darkness which illuminates a pair of sparkling white — eyes? — Yes. Glittering ivory eyeballs.
A whispered word: “Lights!”
From within, a sudden flurry of motion, of popping switches and wrenching levers;
and the crackling arc of electric fury releases
a flashflood of artificial daylight.
“NO TRESPASSING” says the sign.
No, indeed; not on the quiet domain of the Stage Crew.

In today's world, many people are quick to point out society's problems, but few are willing to solve them. There exist, however, some groups whose purpose is to seek out these flaws and attempt to correct them through service to others. The Excalibur Tri-Hi-Y is one such organization. Excalibur Tri-Hi-Y: the profered hand to a floundering society.

senior play . . .

the music man

Having such a wide scope and caliber, the Senior Play, The Music Man, deserves special recognition as one of the largest and most energetic activities of the 1971-72 school year. The play proved to be a huge success and was hailed as one of the best performances ever given by a Senior class.

The lead roles of Harold Hill and Marian Paroo, played by Bill Grabsch and Val Duncan, received strong support from a wild Greg Berger (Marcellus) and a talented Jan Linden (Mrs. Paroo). Noteworthy performances were also recorded by Paul Johnson (Mayor Shinn), Laura Eby (Mrs. Shinn), Bob Tapp (Tommy), Carol Pommer (Zaneeta), Cindy Johnson (Amaryllis), and Scott Plein (Winthrop).

The level of choreographic and musical achievement reached an unprecedented plateau, and perhaps the best feature of the play came in the form of the harmonious Barber Shop Quartet, composed of Carrol Kinsey, Steve Hatfield, Jim Peterson, and Steve Fox. The costuming and set design provided a realistic backdrop for the fast-moving and riotous action of The Music Man.

The prosperity of this show would not have existed, however, had it not been for the hard work and devotion displayed by the play's director, Mrs. Bedinger.

In My Life

I Make A Journey . . . .

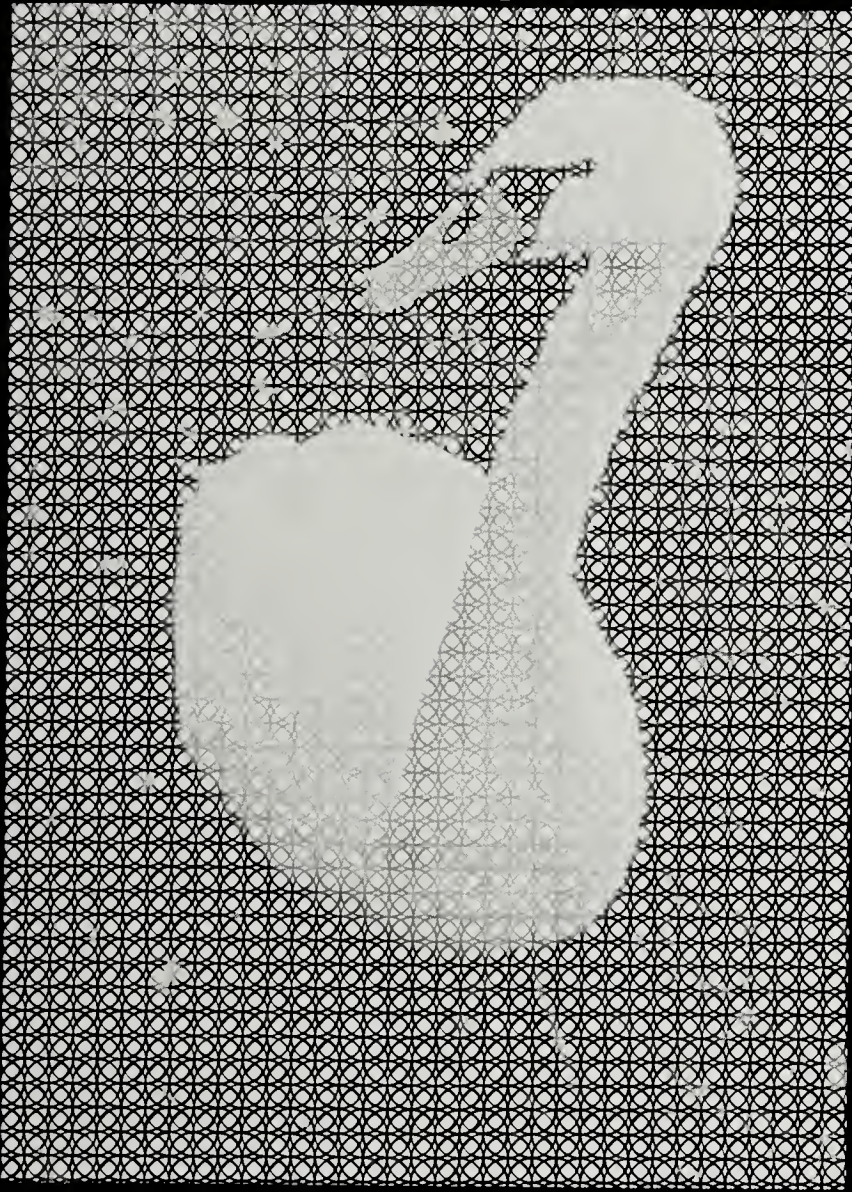

To A Place That All
Should Know . . . .

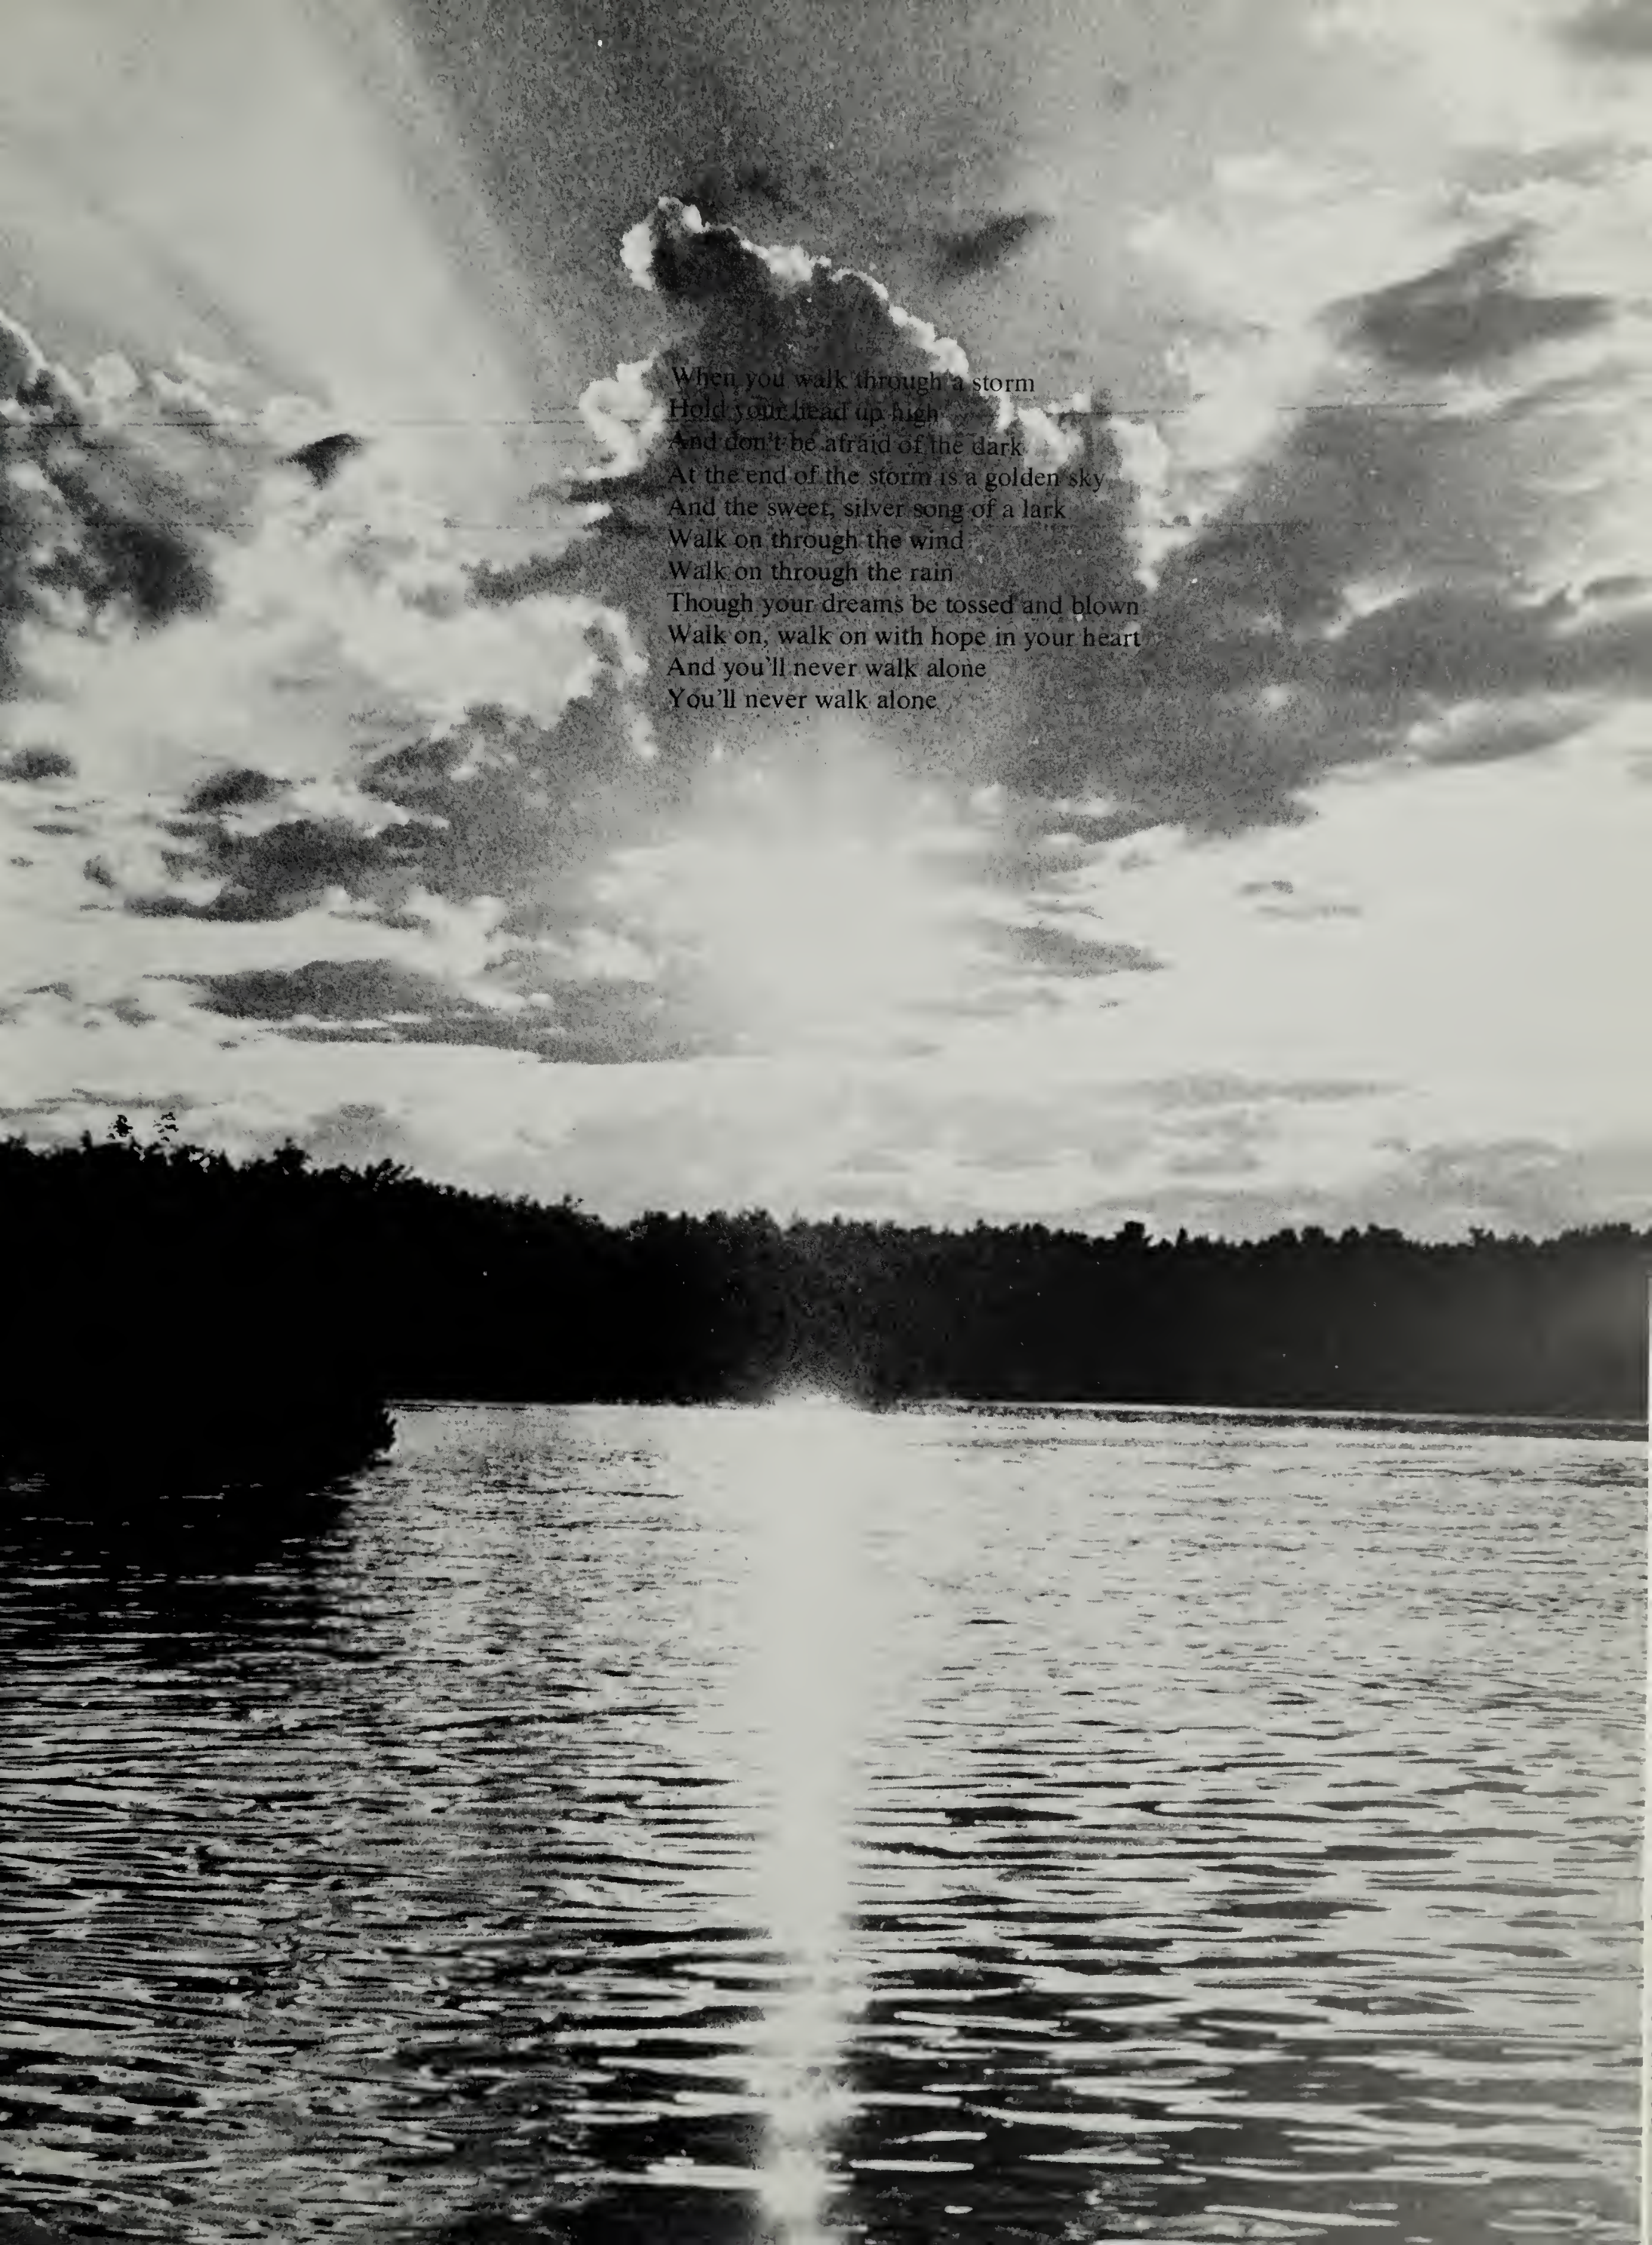

It Is A Land Filled
With Beauty,
A Land Where All
May Go . . . .

When you walk through a storm
Hold your head up high
And don't be afraid of the dark
At the end of the storm is a golden sky
And the sweet, silver song of a lark
Walk on through the wind
Walk on through the rain
Though your dreams be tossed and blown
Walk on, walk on with hope in your heart
And you'll never walk alone
You'll never walk alone
